

Ohio's Governor Lausche Tipped New Baseball Chieftain

MIAMI BEACH, March 13—Albert B. (Happy) Chandler ambled toward the showers and shadows today and Ohio's Gov. Frank Lausche seemed destined to succeed him as commissioner of baseball.

Happy's spot in the sun as czar of the national pastime ended yesterday when the 16 major league club owners declined to give him a two-thirds majority vote of confidence. Seven opposed him.

Gov. Lausche appeared to have an inside track for the $65,000 a year job.

Others on the list of potential successors include FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, Judge Harold Medina, Security Chief W. Stuart Symington, James A. Farley and such veteran baseball men as Ford Frick, president of the National League, and George Trautman, boss of the minor circuits.

Lausche apparently already has the support of at least three clubs—Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati.

Informed sources reported, however, that some of the old timers prefer to break precedent by picking a man from the ranks of baseball rather than another "civilian" like Chandler and his predecessor, the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

Trautman seemed to be the logical choice if that view prevails. Frick said he is not seeking the post.

Chandler told newsmen that he "guessed" he would resign as soon as his successor is selected and ready to work. He will hold the job until then or, otherwise, until his contract expires on April 30, 1952.

The club owners set no date to pick another commissioner. They simply instructed a "screening committee" assigned to nominate a new commissioner that it should take all the time necessary.

The former Kentucky senator, meanwhile, did not bar himself from returning to Congress. There were reports he may be appointed to fill the vacancy caused last week by the death of Sen. Chapman, (D) Ky., and then seek the job in a special election.

In this connection, Chandler commented:

"Wait 'till I get back home in the Blue Grass to ask me about that."

The vote in the three-and-a-half hour locked-door session yesterday was cast by secret ballot. Newsmen generally concluded, however, that the club owners who blackballed him were:

Fred Saigh, St. Louis Cardinals; Del Webb, New York Yankees; Lou Perini, Boston Braves; Bob Carpenter, Philadelphia Phillies; Walter O'Malley, Brooklyn Dodgers; Bill Dewitt, St. Louis Browns, and either Charles Comiskey, Chicago White Sox, or Tom Yawkey, Boston Red Sox.

Chandler was dismissed suddenly during the major leagues' winter meeting in St. Petersburg, but no formal charges were ever filed against him.

And Now GOP Chief Cited For Influence

National Chairman Is Accused; Complete Ethics Probe Sought

WASHINGTON, March 13—Congress heard accusations today that Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson obtained $18.5 million in loans from the government for his own company and charged the concern a $100,000 fee for the work.

The charge was made by Rep. Wayne L. Hays, (D) Ohio, in a House speech. Hays said:

"It seems that Mr. Gabrielson, in addition to being chairman of the Republican National Committee, has been doing a little influencing at RNC."

House Minority Leader Martin, (R) Mass., rose to assert angrily that the facts were brought out publicly at a Senate Banking Committee hearing last year and that "as far as I know, nothing of fraud was revealed."

MEANWHILE, Senate Influence Probe Chairman Fulbright, (D) Ark., disclosed that he will call for an all-out investigation of ethics in government.

Hays contended the story of the Gabrielson loans was brought out in a closed-door session of the present "influence" hearings being conducted by a Senate subcommittee.

He said that Gabrielson, as president of Carthage Hydrocol, Inc., obtained a loan of $9 million for his octane gasoline firm on April 8, 1946, another of $3.5 million on April 2, 1948, and a third of $6 million on April 25, 1949. Hays added:

"This testimony would tend to show that he charged his own company, the Carthage Hydrocol, $100,000 for his services in securing these loans for it."

The Ohio Democrat also said that two members of the Senate "were exerting pressure to get this loan for Mr. Gabrielson's company."

He said House rules prevented him from naming them on the floor but added:

"I will most certainly name them tonight at 10 o'clock over the Mutual network."

Martin declared that he wanted a full investigation of the RNC, "regardless of political party."

Fulbright told newsmen that he is working on a Senate speech that will outline the results of his year and one-half examination of pressure, politics and pull in the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The inquiry culminated in the current sensational hearings on "influence" in the granting of government loans, with a cast of characters which included Donald Dawson, a top presidential aide; Merl Young, husband of a White House secretary; and Joseph Rosenbaum, a Washington attorney and Young's benefactor.

Fulbright's hearings are in recess today, but a federal grand jury is pursuing its investigation. (Continued on Page Two)

Driving Rights Are Suspended For Entire Life

Driving rights of John Ethredge Justice, 24, of the U.S. Airforce were suspended for life Monday by Judge William D. Radcliff in Pickaway County common pleas court.

The defendant, formerly of 225 East Union street, pleaded guilty to two counts of second degree manslaughter and one of drunken driving.

In addition to the suspension of driving rights, Justice was placed on probation for five years.

He was arrested last Aug. 19 following an accident on Route 277 just outside Atlanta in which Elaine M. Lehman, 12, of Atlanta and Yvonne Newlin, 13, of Chillicothe were killed.

The accident took place after dark when an auto driven by Justice crashed into two bicycles ridden by the girls. There were no witnesses to the accident.

Terms of the probation are that Justice remain in the armed services and make allotments of $25 a month to each of the families of the girls until each has been paid $1,000, violate no laws and report once a month by mail to Pickaway County prosecutor.

Chlorine Content Slash Slated For City's Water

Wash day troubles caused by discoloration of Circleville city water have induced some heavy thinking on the part of water department officials.

And out of the brain labor has come a decision to lower the chlorine content of the water.

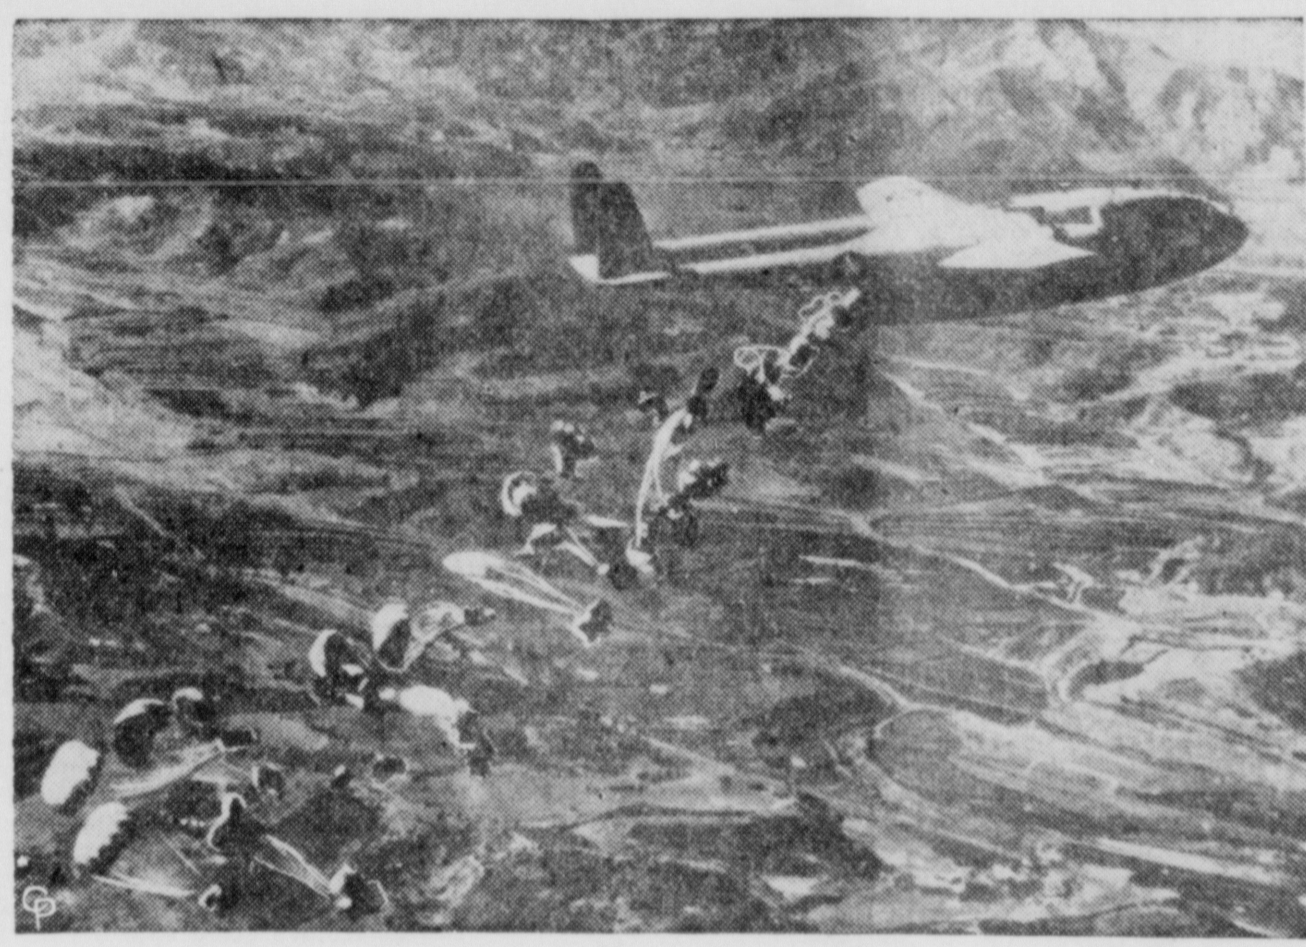

Ervin Leist, water department manager, said that the matter has been discussed with the state health department, which has given its approval.

The chlorine content, however, will still be maintained above the safety point for health.

Chlorine and air react with iron compounds in the water to cause an accumulation of iron deposits throughout the water system.

LEIST HAD A suggestion to offer housewives troubled with stained water.

"We have noted," he said, "that persons owning automatic washers have reported more trouble from discoloration than others. This is probably because the water gushes into the washer

SWEEPING LOW OVER THE FRONT LINES in Korea, a C-119 Flying Boxcar drops tons of vital supplies to United Nations ground forces battling the Reds in the rugged hills north of the Han river. With the roads turned into quagmires, the airdrop is the only practical means of supply.

1,556-Foot Level Hit

Ringgold Oil Test Continues

Drillers at a hoped-for oil well in the Ringgold community are still hammering deep into the earth and Monday reported they had penetrated more than 1,500 feet downward.

As of Monday evening, actual depth was 1,556 feet—perhaps the halfway mark. It was started last January.

Most recent report carried in The Circleville Herald had the wildcat well at just over the 1,000-foot mark with workmen battling against a formation of steel-hard lime.

It proved to be 530 feet thick, was saturated with salt water, little sign of natural gas or oil.

Called "Niagara Lime," the layer, according to best available geological information, was to have been followed by a formation known as Clinton sand.

BUT THIS WAS NOT found. Instead, drillers have been pounding down through alternating layers of gray and pink shale.

The ton and one-half bit is eating through this shale at the rate of about four feet an hour, boring downward toward the Trenton formations. If geological information is correct, these formations will come in two parts—400 to 500 feet of more lime and then Trenton Sand.

It is in this latter formation that the sponsor of the wildcat well, the Lancaster City Gas Co., hopes to hit paydirt—in this case natural gas or crude oil—or both.

In preparation for this find, drillers have their well hole fully cased down nearly 1,400 feet. Casing used is six-inch.

Near the top of the hole and around the six-inch casing is 165 feet of eight-inch casing. And around this is 128 feet of ten-inch material.

The drilling goes on constantly and monotonously. Two men are paired to work eight-hour shifts so that 24 hours a day are spent with the rig every day except Sundays.

The Lancaster firm's initial test well is located just over the Pickaway County line in Amanda Township, Fairfield County. Several hundred acres of land in the Ringgold community are under option in case the well comes in a gusher.

Cattleman Sees Cut In Prices

DALLAS, March 13—An attorney for the Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association has predicted a government move to cut on-the-hoof prices 10 to 15 percent and establish price ceilings for live animals.

Joe G. Montague made the forecast yesterday at the association's 74th convention in Dallas.

FORCES LIMITATION EYED

House Arms Panel Seen Rebuffing Defense Plan

WASHINGTON, March 13—The Defense Department faces a reversal today in the House Armed Services Committee, which is polishing up its version of the draft bill to include a limitation on the strength of the armed forces.

The House group is expected to override presidential and Defense Department objections to a military manpower ceiling, even though President Truman telephoned legislative leaders yesterday to express "deep concern" over limitation. The committee ceiling is expected to be four million men and women.

The committee voted down 21 to 14, a Republican attempt to bar the sending of American troops to Europe. The committee rejected an amendment by Rep. Towe, (R) N. J., to the draft bill to bar, within 12 months after enactment of the new proviso, the sending of Army personnel to Atlantic pact nations or their colonies.

The Senate adopted a similar provision when it approved Friday its own draft bill reducing the draft age to 18, extending the term of military service from 21 to 24 months, and providing for a permanent system of Universal Military Training.

The House committee is acting on its own bill, sponsored by Chairman Vinson, (D) Ga. As it entered its second day of closed-door deliberations, it had approved inductions at age 18 and one-half, 26 months' service, UMT, and drafting of more 4-Fs.

STILL TO BE acted upon were provisions giving Congress a 60-day veto power over inauguration of UMT, deferment of up to 210,000 reserve officer training students, deferments of other students (but not necessarily 75,000 as approved by the Senate), and a three-year termination date for the draft.

The Senate bill establishes a permanent Selective Service system which would be turned into a training program whenever the world situation permitted. The House bill would terminate the draft on July 1, 1954.

Vinson said he hoped his committee will take a final vote today on the bill. However, with only half the measure completed yesterday, it appeared likely that the bill will not be reported out until tomorrow.

The Georgia Democrat hopes to obtain final congressional action on the legislation before the Easter recess begins March 22.

Following House action, Senate and House conferees will whip the legislation into final shape.

Darrow's Spirit To Be Called By Old Friend

CHICAGO, March 13 — New lures will be offered to the spirit of the late Clarence Darrow today on the 13th anniversary of the famed criminal lawyer's death.

Claude D. Noble, a Detroit businessman who has made an annual—and thus far futile—pilgrimage to Chicago in an attempt to commune with his long-departed friend, said:

"Today may be the day. We are trying something new."

The incentives which may bring some manifestation from Darrow for the first time since his death on March 13, 1938, are:

1. A bust of the great criminal lawyer, accompanied by his creator, Sculptor P. K. Kufren, in Noble's entourage at the vigil on a bridge over the Jackson Park lagoon in Chicago from which Darrow's ashes were strewn 13 years ago.

2. A new legal treatise on one of Darrow's first and most brilliant forensic debates—the courtroom battle of words with silver-tongued William Jennings Bryan in the 1925 evolution trial.

Noble said, however, that even if Darrow's spirit again fails to keep the date his pilgrimage will be a success.

He pointed out that the eerie annual act is the result of a pact with Darrow and the late magician, Howard Thurston, to debunk mediums and others who capitalize on the alleged existence of a "spirit" world.

New Shootings Hit Barcelona

MADRID, March 13—Scattered new shooting incidents were reported today from Barcelona, where at least 20 persons have been injured in mass demonstrations by building workers against the high cost of living.

Shops and stores reopened and communications returned to normal today, but early reports said workers in textile and steel plants remained away from their jobs in sympathy with the striking building men.

Red Plotters Said Hanged

BERLIN, March 13—Authoritative East German government sources said today that 14 Soviet officers in East Germany have been hanged for allegedly plotting the death of Joseph Stalin and other Soviet leaders.

These sources said that more than 200 anti-Stalin Germans also had been arrested in a widespread crackdown on underground movements in the area occupied by the Russians.

Top Politicians Are Named As Joe Adonis Intimates

NEW YORK, March 13—A New York State official told the Senate Crime Investigating Committee today that he was introduced to Joe Adonis by Former Mayor William O'Dwyer and a number of other politicians.

The witness, Assistant Attorney General Jerome G. Ambro, former Tammany Kingpin, said the introduction took place in the early 1930s in Adonis' restaurant in Brooklyn.

The introduction was made, he said, by O'Dwyer, who now is U.S. ambassador to Mexico; Assemblyman Irwin Steingut; Frank Quayle, former fire commissioner, and Frank Kelly, the late Democratic leader of Brooklyn.

Ambro hedged on previous testimony to the committee concerning Adonis' alleged part in defeating him at the time as a Tammany district leader in Brooklyn.

In previous testimony before the committee privately, Ambro said he was defeated by "wise guys, tough guys and floaters—you know how they work, in the dark."

Q. Was it Adonis?

The witness finally replied: "I believe so, yes."

TODAY, HOWEVER, Ambro would not name Adonis directly, but attributed his defeat to the opposition.

Frank Costello also is to step before the investigating committee, preceded by testimony picturing him as a dictator who could rule on a mayor for New York's eight million residents.

Costello, who watched the committee's opening proceedings by television yesterday in the quiet of a steakhouse, will be pressed for explanations of the charges heaped upon him by witnesses.

The man the committee denounced last week as an underworld king has said he "probably" will not testify unless the television cameras are shut off.

The committee has said the cameras will be halted during the testimony of any witness who offers an objection.

Costello goes before the Kefauver committee after two witnesses spoke with implied awe of his power in politics and effectiveness in purging a race track of unwanted bookies.

Charles Lipsky, a Brooklyn Republican leader and self-described intimate of O'Dwyer, said that Costello's approval was essential for any candidate for

Rome Police Check Bombings

ROME, March 13—Rome police searched today for persons responsible for twin bombings last night on the grounds of the American embassy and the Italian foreign office.

Both bombs were hand-made missiles which caused no casualties and little damage.

Members of a leftwing organization were believed to have done the bombing in protest against the disposition of the port city of Trieste which was made an international zone under the Italian peace treaty.

PRE-KOREA LEVEL IS EYED

Food Price Rollback Laws Readied By U.S. Agency

WASHINGTON, March 13—Price Controller Michael DiSalle has almost completed work today on three regulations rolling back manufactured and packaged food profits to pre-Korea levels.

Office of Price stabilization officials said the regulations probably would be made public next Monday.

DiSalle is also planning a broad manufacturers' price ceiling regulation which would call for a rollback in prices of some articles, but would allow increases of up to five percent above the Jan. 26 price freeze for others.

There is no definite date for issuance of this order. It will be the subject of a conference tomorrow between DiSalle and about 30 industrialists representing everything from nylons to lumber.

ON THE LABOR front, Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston is reported to have practically agreed with Labor on a plan whereby union members would go back to the disrupted wage stabilization board.

The whole effort is represented by labor sources, however, as having hit a snag as a result of the refusal of management representatives to accept a provision whereby the wage board would handle both wage stabilization matters and labor disputes.

Industry representatives insist that the Wage Stabilization Board should be confined to wage stabilization.

Labor wants it broadened to handle union shop, seniority, and other disputes, pointing to the old War Labor Board as a precedent.

In the financial front, the Federal Reserve Board moved against inflation by asking banks to tighten up on loans for non-defense purposes. In addition, the board is considering a presidential query as to whether loans can be held to those necessary for defense purposes.

DiSalle's food orders may be ready in a couple of days, but the OPS wants to hold up making them public until they are distributed around the country. The three regulations would:

1. Attempt to roll back to the pre-Korea level markups over cost of the nation's chain food stores.

2. Do the same for the independent grocers.

3. Provide similar requirements for wholesalers.

The regulations will apply only to manufactured and other processed foods, including canned goods, packaged and frozen foods, and cured meats.

Parallel 38 Is Only 23 Miles Away

All Central Front Moves Backward

TOKYO, March 13—American troops overran two Red strong points and stabbed to within 23 miles of Korea's 38th Parallel today in a non-stop pursuit of enemy forces retreating along the whole 75-mile central front.

The east-central road hubs of Changpyong and Yudong fell before the United Nations northward drive which also shot armor-tipped spearheads to points only four miles from the enemy's defensive key-stone of Hongchon.

The Allied avalanche thundered up to the crust of a new 19-mile-wide Chinese line in mid-Korea, anchored on Hongchon, as the Communists reeled backward everywhere except in the Seoul vicinity on the west front.

A night communique issued by U.S. Eighth Army field headquarters listed an additional 3,200 Red casualties inflicted by UN ground forces alone Tuesday and airmen claimed another 450 for a day's total of 3,650.

THIS RAISED to more than 38,000 the total of Chinese and North Korean troops knocked out in the seven days since the UN forces renewed their big push toward Parallel 38, South Korea's artificial northern border. More than 53,000 Reds have been knocked out in the first 13 days of March.

The Eighth Army's latest war bulletin said the Communist invaders were "still withdrawing along the entire front" which stretches 75 miles east from the UN Han river bridgehead east of Seoul across Central Korea's mountains.

During Tuesday's operations, the communique added, the Allied columns met "little or no enemy contact."

A Tuesday night dispatch from the 10th Corps' east-central front reported that U.S. Second Division troops captured Yudong, 11 miles northeast of Allied-held Hongchon.

The key point, commanding a mountain pass, was successfully stormed by the tank-paced GIs in the face of mortar, automatic weapons and small arms fire after the Americans smashed a battalion-guarded Red road block south of Yudong.

Yudong fell a few hours after American Seventh Division troops farther east captured the vital road center of Changpyong, 24 miles below Parallel 38.

To the west, a British unit pounded to within four miles south of the Red mountain bastion of Hongchon while U.S. First Cavalry spearheads sliced up to the bank of the strategic Hongchon river, 23 miles south of the parallel.

Sen. Vandenberg 'Sinking Fast'

GRAND RAPIDS, March 13—Michigan Senator Arthur Vandenberg was reported in "grave condition" today and sinking fast.

In a bulletin from the Republican foreign affairs adviser's home in Grand Rapids, Dr. A. B. Smith stated:

"The senator's condition has worsened and unless it improves his prognosis must be considered grave."

Paul Ballard, 56, Dies In Athens

ATHENS, March 13—Paul H. Ballard, 56, business manager of Ohio university and advocate of economy in government for seven legislative terms, died yesterday at Ohio university hospital.

Although he was a Republican, Governor Frank J. Lausche, a Democrat, paid him this high tribute:

"If anyone ever was deserving of the appellation 'watchdog of the treasury,' it was Paul Ballard. There was none to equal him as a guardian of the taxpayer's money."

Inventories Up During January

WASHINGTON, March 13—The Commerce Department says that business inventories were built up substantially in January. At the end of the month they were $11.3 billion higher than a year ago.

All business groups, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers were reported stocking up. Total inventories Jan. 31 were valued at $63.1 billion. The gain over December exceeded the normal seasonal rise by $1.8 billion.

The Union of South Africa was formed in 1910.

Sales for the fiscal year up to Feb. 24 also were far ahead of the previous year. Tracy said total collections this amount to $192,477.90, compared to last year's $165,595.62, a jump of $26,882.28.

Throughout the state gross sales of sales tax stamps shown by industry classification during the week ending Feb. 24 were ahead of last year's sales in all classes of industry listed.

GRAND TOTAL of all industries was listed at $2,838,894.48, compared to last year's $1,873,515.28.

Fairfield County, $13,383.09 and $9,927.91; Fayette, $6,360.13 and $5,559.61; Franklin, $212,227.07

Local Talent Contest Booked By Theatre

Plans for a local talent contest are being made by Nick Condello, manager of the Grand theatre, in announcing that his theatre has signed to participate in the "Star Search" being conducted by Radio Station WLW for new entertainers.

Theaters in five states will conduct local talent contests similar to the one here with local winners competing in regional and semifinals in 11 cities. The 11 semifinalists will converge on Cincinnati for the finals, where a downtown theater will be the scene of a week's engagement and judging, with WLW contracts, cash and merchandise awards valued at $5,000 awaiting the winners.

Condello said anyone 18 years of age or older, who today earns the main part of his livelihood outside the field of entertainment, is eligible. Performers interested in entering the contest are to contact Condello.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?
Recently there have been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.
So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well-stocked Ohio druggist for four ounces of Rennel. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day.
This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves. Rennel is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.

New Streamlined Daylily Said Foolproof Flower, A 'Must' In Every Garden

Hardiness Is Stressed

A foolproof flower that provides a variety of blooms with a minimum of effort on the part of the gardener is becoming more popular, according to Mrs. Donald H. Watt, local garden club enthusiast.

She recommends the Hemerocallis (Daylily) as the plant that is "taking the spotlight in horticultural interests."

Mrs. Watt says that "the true value of the Hemerocallis is its hardiness. They will flourish under a varied range of soil and climatic conditions."

"Wet or dry, acid or lime, sun or shade, sand or clay—these lilies will continue to grow in clumps for many years without any special culture," she continues.

"Daylilies are not bulbs, but herbaceous perennials that should be planted from a single well-formed root. The first season should produce one to three bloom stems."

"If left undisturbed the clump will increase in size until it produces many blooms. There are varieties that grow 12 inches tall and others two, three and even four feet tall."

"Some have blooms not much larger than half a dollar and others from five to six inches. Each variety blooms from four to six weeks after being established and by careful planning one can have a profusion of these flowers in the garden from four to six months of the year."

To emphasize the hardiness of the lily, Mrs. Watt says, "No disease has ever been known to touch a daylily. Those who have grown them know all about their miraculous performance—their range of colors."

Mrs. Watt lists the most popular varieties of this plant as selected by the first popularity symposium of the Hemerocallis Society.

They are Hesperus, Hyperion, Dauntless, Mikado, Painted Lady, Pink Charm, Ophir, Caballero, Royal Ruby, Persian Princess, Honey Redhead and Dominion.

Mrs. Watt also says that "this type of flower was ignored for centuries because of its unattractive color pattern, but now—streamlined after 400 years—hybridizing in the last 50 years has produced an array of new colors and variety in bloom, size and texture."

Concluding the discussion of lilies she says that "daylilies are now considered a 'must' in every well-planned garden."

Lass Is Honored As Friends Note Eighth Birthday

A fluffy white lamb was lying in the center of the dining table at Mimi Good's birthday party

But the lamb had coconut fur, raisin eyes, a cherry nose and was wearing a silver bell on a pink ribbon. And inside him, instead of lamb chops, was cake.

The party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Good in their home on South Court street honoring their daughter on her eighth birthday.

The time was spent in playing games and each child made a "catch" from the fishpond operated by Robert Good.

The guests were wearing colored hats as they were seated at the table decorated in pink yellow and white where they found a balloon favor at each place.

Those attending the party were Ann Glitt, Freda Good, Linda Sue Reid, Sue Moats, Sandy Ward, Sandra Bennett, Elizabeth Stonerock, Rosalie Lake, Nancy Thompson, Barbara Barnes, Carol Justice, Joe, Mary Lou, Tony and Robert Good and Mimi the honored guest.

Mrs. Good was assisted in serving by Jo Ellen and Rose Good.

Clubmen Practicing Hard For Benefit Cage Joust

After a full round of scouting "secret" practices, Circleville's Kiwanis and Rotary civic clubs are ready to stage their benefit basketball game.

The benefit tilt, slated for 8 p. m. Friday in Pickaway Fairgrounds Coliseum, is designed to swell the Circleville high school band uniform fund.

Fans attending the contest should get their full money's worth during the classic meeting of the two clubs.

In addition to the basketball game, expected to feature the talents of Bob Bremer and Fred Clark for Rotarians and Guy Campbell and Ernie Hill for Kiwanis, the CHS band will play its way into the game to give a half-time concert.

An extra attraction will be the "fight song" of Rotarians, lovingly revered by the Rotarians as their "Alma Tomata."

HERE IS THE song adopted by the Rotarians and to be sung to the tune of "On Wisconsin" to encourage the Rotarian stalwarts in the battle:

"Fight Rotarians, Fight Rotarians,
"Throw that ball right in;
"Make the score real high, you fellows,
"For we've got to win.
"Fight Rotarians, Fight Rotarians,
"Beat Ki-wa-ni-ans;
"Fight, fellows, fight,
"And we will win this game."
Although Kiwanis will have its own band for the performance, it is not expected to have a fight song readied in retaliation.

"We'll let Rotarians sing," said Kiwanian John Heiskell. "That's all they'll get done anyway."

During a meeting of Kiwanis Monday night, Circleville High School Coach Dick West was named coach for the club.

"Kiwanis wants the best," Heiskell said. "Therefore, we'll take West to our bosom as a friendly adviser."

Starting lineup for Kiwanis also was picked during the Monday session.

Heading the formidable array of Kiwanis cagers will be Guy Campbell, Elmon Richards, Dr. W. Lloyd Sprouse, Ernie Hill and Jim Mowery.

As an added attraction, the starting Kiwanis lineup will be

Regional Cage Skirmishes To Thin Crown-Chasers

COLUMBUS, March 13.—The high school dog-eat-dog battle for Class A and B basketball championships resumes tonight, but the week's 24 regional skirmishes are not launched until Thursday.

Cleveland Collinwood (12-4) and Coventry (16-5), although both defeated in district final games Saturday, meet by special arrangement in a playoff game at Kent for the state's last regional berth. The winner will meet Elyria (15-6) in a Friday game.

The real fireworks begin Thursday when an even dozen Class B squads, including three of the state's four undefeated teams, launch tourney regional warfare.

When the smoke is lifted Sunday morning, the field which today is dotted with 32 title aspirants, will have been slashed to eight and the finalists will fight among themselves for the Class B crown held by Springfield and the B title already lost by Miller City.

CLASS B POWERS hogging the spotlight Thursday will include Deshler (27), the surviving quintet with the best season's record; unbeaten Fort Recovery (23) and Waynesburg (24), and rampaging Walnut Creek (25-1). Barring the unexpected, all three squads will move into regional finals Saturday still boasting perfect records.

Deshler must hurdle Grand Rapids (25-2) in Toledo and then the high-scoring terror of the B leagues will meet the Ft. Recovery-Leesville (25-2) winner.

Sebring (19-3) should provide unbeaten Waynesburg with its stiffest opposition to date in Thursday's game at Kent. Sebring's losses are all to Class A clubs.

Walnut Creek, the school with an enrollment of some 18 from a town with a population of 150, guns for Orange (19-6) and a bout Saturday with the Wayne-Sebring winner.

Corning (26-1) and Ironton St. Joseph (22-4) round out Thursday action in Athens along with Ashley (24-2) and Matamoras (27-4).

Ashley, Sebring, Orange, Matamoras, Deshler, Ironton St. Joseph, Leesville and Blanchester, which plays Friday, all will be gunning for their first trip to the capital city.

WHETHER CLASS A's defending champion, Springfield (18-5), can repeat last year's winning performance and one other given

Bowsher Cup To Climax 1951 Season

Presentation Is Due April 7

This year's Pickaway County basketball activities will be climaxed April 7 when the highest individual award of the season is presented.

Monroe's Lester Sanders will play the leading role in the climactic ceremony when he receives the 1951 Bob Bowsher Memorial Trophy award.

The Bob Bowsher trophy is an annual award presented by The Circleville Herald to the player who distinguishes himself in sportsmanship, teamwork and cooperation during the annual county tournament.

Presentation of this year's trophy will be made during the Monroe athletic banquet, slated for April 7 in the Monroe school.

The name of Lester Sanders already has been engraved onto the trophy to join the names of the first three outstanding players in the four-year history of the award.

PRECEDING SANDERS in receiving the coveted award were Williamsport's Jim Picklesimer in the 1948 tournament; Walnut's

Bob Pontius in 1949; and Big Bill Rowley of Darby in 1950.

Each of the first three boys passed the same rigid scrutiny of the 11 member-school coaches during their respective tournament years which Sanders accomplished with flying colors this season.

Sanders was chosen as this year's Bob Bowsher Trophy winner by a good margin, the balloting removing all doubt as to which player should receive the trophy.

The Monroe Indian star player was tops in sportsmanship during this year's tournament, his cooperation was unquestioned.

And Sanders' teamwork was one of the factors which gave his Indian team this year's tournament championship.

It was Sanders' brand of ball to drive backward, draw off no enemy defensive and then pass off to a teammate in better position to make the shot count.

Bill Rowley, last year's award winner, is expected to be on hand during the Monroe banquet to make presentation of the trophy to this year's winner.

The Bowsher Trophy, of polished walnut and gold trim, will be on display in the office of The Herald until time for its presentation to Sanders.

Among the several other banquets the championship Monroe team will be receiving in the next few weeks will be a special dinner at 7 p. m. Thursday in Circleville Court-Main restaurant.

Sponsored by Owner Charles Glitt, the dinner will be for the
